ABOUT ME

A self-taught web developer based in Colombo with a passion for coding and UI/UX responsive design. A quick learner who is always seeking to learn new technologies. A team player with relentless support towards reaching a common goal. Currently looking for a full-time job.

EXPERIENCE

FREELANCER

Male', Maldives: 2017 - present

I have been working as a freelance web developer for the past two years. I have experience in creating numerous projects from simple landing pages to fully-functional business websites. I am also familiar with digital marketing (SEO, Email etc.) and graphic designing concepts (Wireframes, typography etc.) which I used to optimize the clients' websites in order to increase the customer interaction with their websites. I develop website as per UI/UX design concepts where customers and clients' satisfaction are considered to be the highest goal. I am also familiar with Git and quite comfortable working in a team.

Technical Experience:

- Developed trending user-facing features according to different clients' customer requirements and ensured the technical feasibility of UI/UX designs.
- Converted personally-coded and pre-existed websites to WordPress templates and supported clients with user-friendly CMS management.
- Assisted clients in email marketing campaigns by creating HTML emails and newsletters.
- Collaborated common projects in GitHub with colleagues.
- Experience in pair-programming remotely using the AWS Cloud 9 platform (Link)
- Contributed to open-source on GitHub (Link)
- Converted Photoshop sites to HTML and CSS and made them responsive to fit in different screen sizes.
- Optimized clients' web apps for maximum speed and scalability.

TEFL TEACHER & BLOGGER

Male', Maldives: 2014 - present

I have been teaching English as a foreign language in Male' for the last couple of years. I am responsible for training several groups of students sitting for professional exam like, IELTS, TOEFL etc.

Accomplishments:

- Author of the blog: ieltstactics.blogspot.com
- Author of the book: General English-an exam practice guide. The book has been in publication since 2013. At the moment it is in the fourth Edition. Published by Sarasawya Publishers, Nugegoda, Sri Lanka. (Link)
